Thank you Mr. President.

I am honored to make this statement on behalf of the International Lesbian and Gay Association<sup>2</sup> and 11 co-sponsoring NGOs. It is endorsed by several hundred NGOs from more than 90 countries

Last September, this Council adopted its second resolution on sexual orientation, gender identity and human rights. Around the world however, members of our communities still face violence and discrimination from State and non-State actors because of our sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, or intersex status.

For many, these issues are inextricably linked to struggled for gender equality, autonomy over our bodies and lives, denial of sexual and reproductive health and rights, and the effects of multiple and intersecting forms of discrimination on the basis of factors such as class, poverty, occupation as sex workers, age, ethnicity, religion, race, HIV status and disability.

In too many countries, LGBTI persons face severe human rights violations - we are criminalized, we face the death penalty, we are murdered, we are subjected to so-called “conversion therapies”; we are subjected to rape and forced marriage; we face genetic de-selection, infanticide, and involuntary so-called “reparative therapies”; we are demeaned and beaten, subjected to pathologisation and sterilization, our identities often unrecognized by States.

These violations also extend to the family sphere, where rejection and discriminatory treatment of and violence against LGBT and intersex family members can have serious, negative consequences for the enjoyment of human rights. In many countries, our work as human rights defenders is opposed, obstructed or banned, for example through the use of so called “anti-propaganda” laws. Our rights to peaceful assembly are often denied, while attempts are made to silence our voices.

There are also positive steady successes and developments in all regions of the world, including the recent adoption by the African Commission on Human and Peoples’ Rights of a resolution on the “Protection Against Violence and other Human Rights Violations Against Persons on the Basis of their Real or Imputed Sexual Orientation or Gender Identity”, and the recent creation of a Rapporteurship on the Rights of Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Trans and Intersex Persons within the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights.

In June of last year, we asked the Council to adopt a resolution that ensures regular reporting, constructive dialogue and sustained, systematic attention to the breadth of human rights violations on the basis of sexual orientation, gender identity and intersex status. While we welcome the resolution passed in September, and the recent report of the OHCHR, as additional positive steps forward, we must reiterate that these violations are systemic, and require systemic responses from the Human Rights Council.

Déclaration Commune des ONGs - Point 8 Débat Général

J'ai l'honneur de faire cette déclaration au nom de International Lesbian and Gay Association<sup>4</sup> et des 11 ONGs co-sponsors. Elle a été approuvée par plusieurs centaines des ONG's de plus de 90 pays.

En septembre dernier, ce Conseil a adopté sa deuxième résolution sur l'orientation sexuelle, l'identité de genre et les droits humains. Néanmoins, autour du monde, des membres de nos communautés continuent à faire face à la violence et la discrimination de la part d'acteurs étatiques et non étatiques en raison de nos orientations sexuelles, identités et expressions de genre, ou statut de personne intersexe.

Pour beaucoup d'entre nous, ces questions sont inextricablement liés à la lutte pour l'égalité des genres, l'autonomie sur nos corps et de nos vies, la négation des droits sexuels et reproductifs, et l'effet de formes de discrimination multiples et croisées, fondées sur des facteurs comme la classe, la pauvreté, la profession de travailleurs/travailleuses du sexe, l'âge, l'ethnicité, la religion, la race, le statut VIH et le handicap.

Dans trop de pays, les personnes LGBTI font face à des violations graves des droits humains – nous sommes criminalisés, nous risquons la peine de mort, nous sommes assassinés, nous sommes soumis à des soi-disant « thérapies de conversion », nous sommes soumis à des viols et à des mariages forcés, nous sommes confrontés à la désélection génétique, à l'infanticide et à des soi-disant « thérapies réparatrices », nous sommes rabaisés et battus, nous faisons l'objet de pathologisation et de stérilisation, nos identités sont fréquemment niées par les Etats.

Ces violations s'étendent à la sphère familiale, dans laquelle le rejet, les traitements discriminatoires et la violence contre les membres LGBT et intersexes de la famille peuvent avoir des conséquences sérieuses et négatives sur la jouissance des droits humains. Dans beaucoup de pays, notre travail comme défenseurs des droits humains fait l'objet d'opposition, est obstrué ou interdit, par exemple à travers l'utilisation des lois dites « propagande de l'homosexualité ». Notre droit au rassemblement pacifique est souvent nié, en même temps que l'on tente d'étouffer nos voix.

Il existe déjà des succès et des développements positifs et réguliers dans toutes les régions du monde, y compris l'adoption récente par la Commission africaine des Droits de l'Homme et des Peuples d'une résolution sur la « Protection contre la violence et d'autres violations des droits humains de personnes sur la base de leur identité ou orientation sexuelle réelle ou supposée », et la création récente du poste de rapporteur sur les Droits des Personnes Lesbien, Gays, Bissexuelles, Trans et Intersexes de la Commission Interaméricaine des Droits de l'Homme.

En juin de l'année dernière, nous avons demandé au Conseil d'adopter une résolution prévoyant des rapports réguliers, un dialogue constructif et soutenu, une attention systématique sur l'ampleur des violations des droits humains basées sur l'orientation sexuelle, l'identité de genre et le statut de personne intersexe. Alors que nous accueillons favorablement la résolution adoptée en septembre, et le rapport récent du HCDH, qui sont des avancées positives, nous devons répéter une nouvelle fois que ces violations sont de nature systématiques, et nécessitent une réponse systématique du Conseil des Droits de l'Homme.

Gracias Sr. Presidente,

Es un honor para mí hacer esta declaración a nombre de International Lesbian and Gay Association<sup>6</sup> y 11 ONG's copatrocinadoras. Esta declaración cuenta con el apoyo de cientos de ONG's de más de 90 países.

En Septiembre pasado, este Consejo adoptó su segunda resolución en materia de orientación sexual, identidad de género y derechos humanos. Sin embargo, alrededor del mundo, miembros de nuestras comunidades aun siguen sufriendo violencia y discriminación por agentes Estatales y no estatales en razón de su orientación sexual, identidad de género y expresión, o estatus intersex.

Para muchos, estas cuestiones están íntimamente vinculados con la lucha por la igualdad de género, autonomía sobre nuestros cuerpos y vidas, negación de derechos y salud sexuales y reproductivos; y los efectos de múltiples formas interrelacionadas de discriminación por razones de clase, pobreza, ocupación como trabajadores sexuales, edad, etnia, religión, raza, VIH y discapacidad.

En muchos países, las personas LGBTI enfrentan severas violaciones de derechos humanos, estamos criminalizados, enfrentamos la pena de muerte, somos asesinados, somos objeto de las llamadas "terapias de conversión", somos sujetos a violaciones y matrimonio forzado, enfrentamos de-selección genética, somos degradados y golpeados, objeto de patologización y esterilización; nuestras identidades no suelen ser reconocidas por los Estados.

Estas violaciones también se extienden a la esfera familiar, donde el rechazo, el trato discriminatorio y violencia de los miembros de las familias contra las personas LGBTI pueden tener consecuencias serias y negativas en el disfrute de los derechos humanos. En muchos países nuestro trabajo como defensores de derechos humanos es obstruido, obstaculizado y prohibido, por ejemplo, mediante el uso de las llamadas "leyes anti-propaganda". Nuestros derechos a la reunión pacífica son regularmente negados mientras se intenta silenciar nuestras voces.

También hay avances y triunfos positivos en todas las regiones del mundo, incluyendo la reciente adopción de la resolución sobre la "Protección contra la violencia y otras violaciones de derechos humanos de las personas por razones de su identidad u orientación sexual real o percibida" de la Comisión Africana de los Derechos Humanos y de los Pueblos. Así como la reciente creación de la Relatoría sobre los derechos de las personas LGBTI en la Comisión Interamericana de Derechos Humanos.

En Junio del año pasado, le solicitamos al Consejo que adoptara una resolución que asegurara la presentación de reportes periódicos, que construyera un diálogo y una atención sostenida y sistemática de la amplitud de violaciones de derechos humanos en razón de la orientación sexual, identidad de género e el estatus intersex. Si bien damos la bienvenida a la resolución que se adoptó en Septiembre, y el reciente reporte del Alto Comisionado como pasos que se han dado hacia adelante, tenemos que reiterar que estas violaciones son sistemáticas, y que requieren de respuestas sistemáticas del Consejo de Derechos Humanos.
